

CONVENTION
Tallinn 2019

National competition program for kids and youth
Long-term development from kids to youth to adult

Tallinn, 25 October 2019

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

Are you using IAAF Kids Athletics or implements specially adapted to age categories ?

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

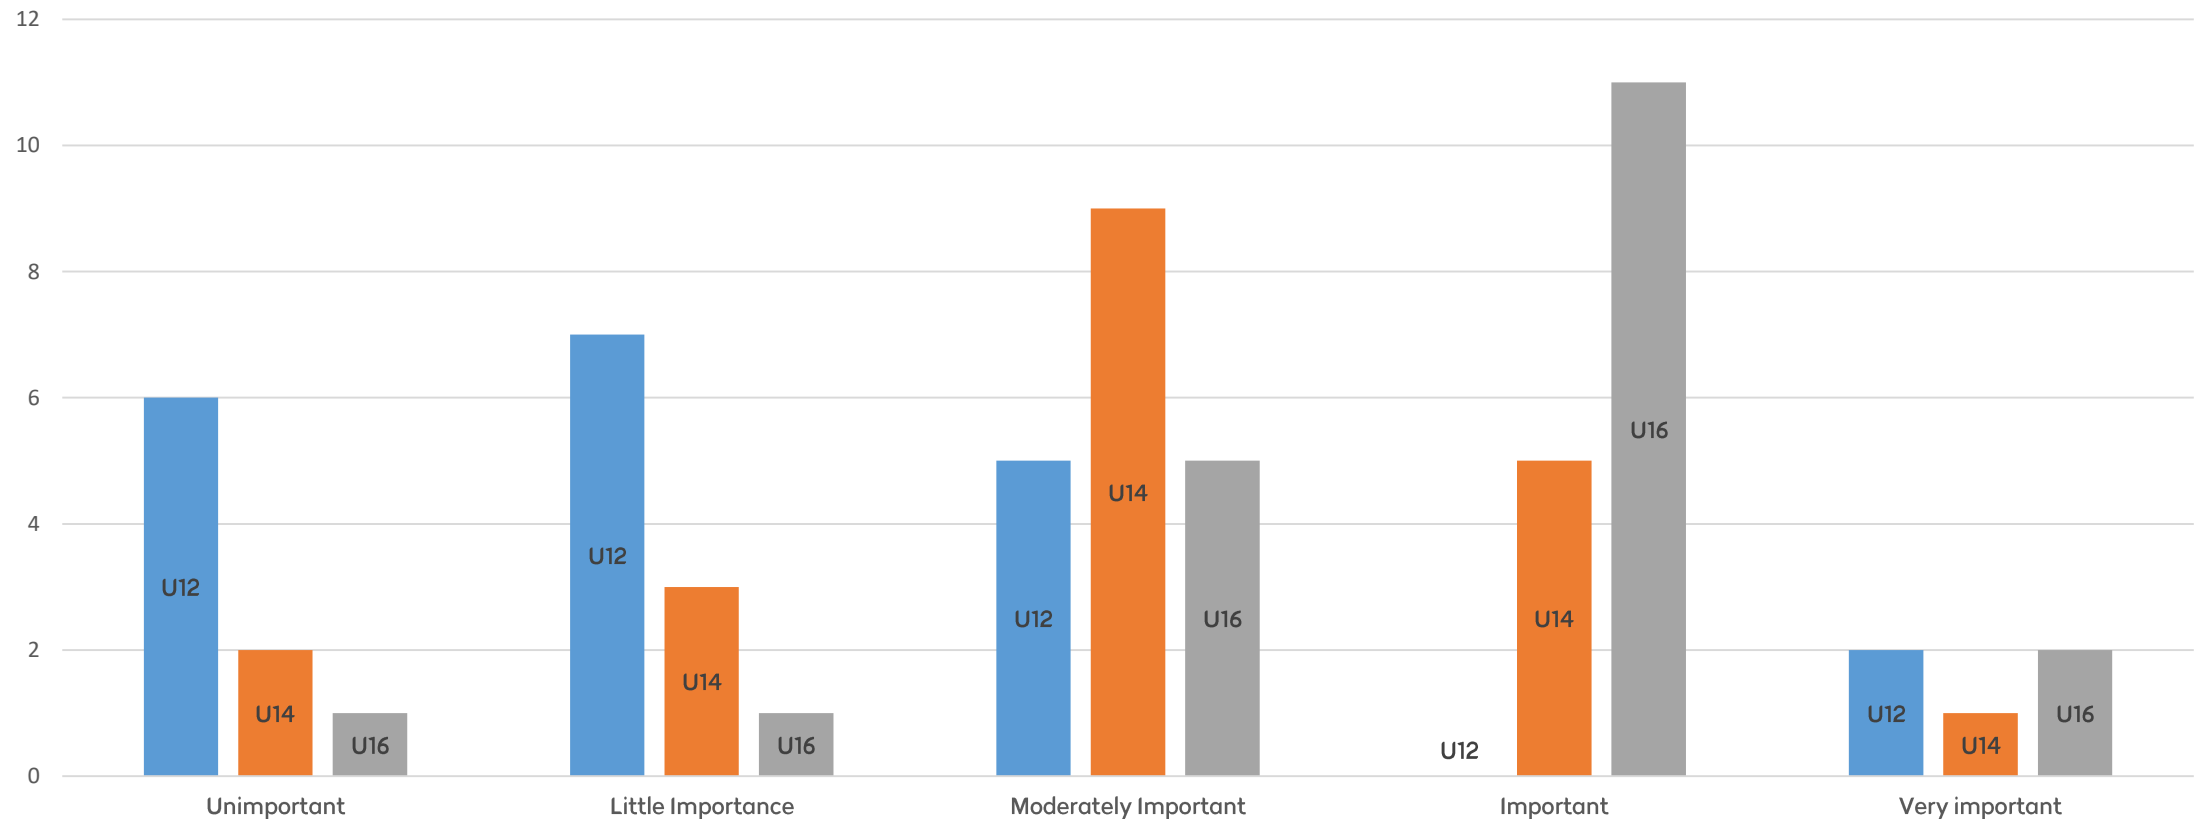

Do you have special competition structure for athletes

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

How important is comparing performance to other athletes

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

How important is focusing on performance

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

How important is performance improvement

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

How important is focusing on fun and engagement

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

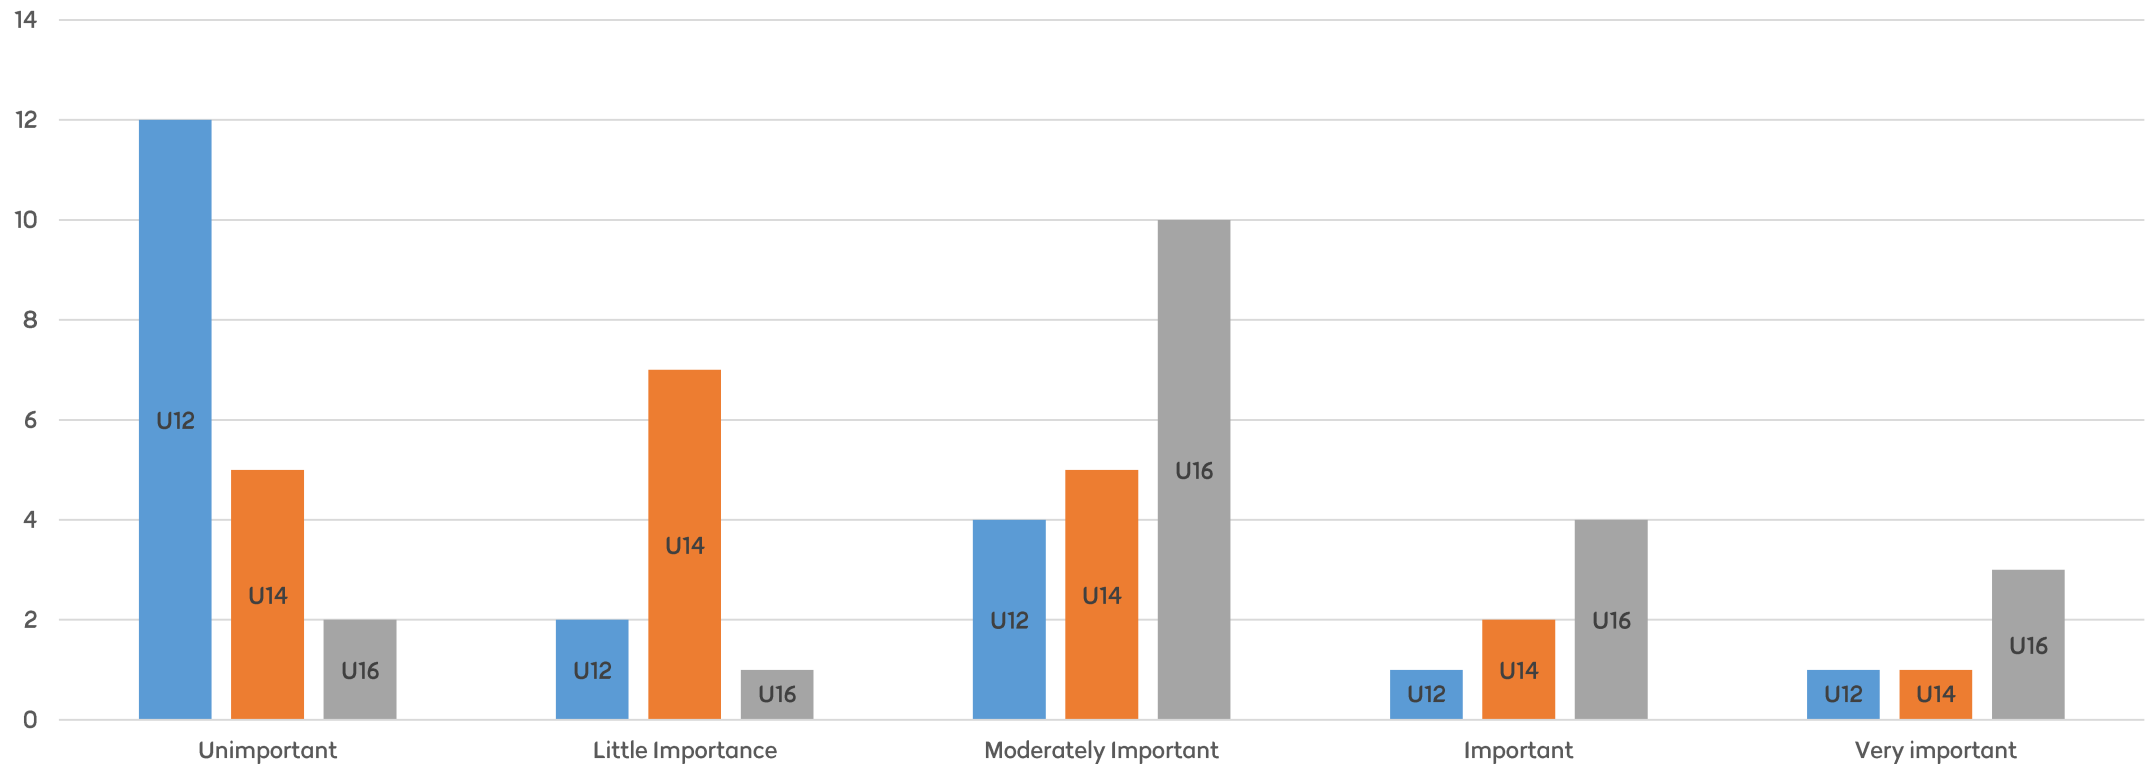

How important how important is for athletes to take part in multiple events

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

How important how important is for athletes to specialise in one event

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

How important is the development of social skills

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

How important is the development of skills related to performance

National competition for kids and youth

Pre-workshop survey

Are you currently changing your competition structure for young athletes?

"Pay more attention to, and divide age groups"

"U13s structure encourages earlier specialisation and doesn't align with the athlete development model."

"Too much travel"

"Events for youth to be more entertaining"

"So that all clubs can take part in this level of competition."

"Improving the sporting life of school children, as well as their socializing and getting to know each other."

"To maximise engagement for the various levels of athletes."

"To attract more children to athletics and to postpone the competition stress for these ages."

"Get more new organizers of children's competitions."